Guide to Starting a Business in Nevada
GETTING HELP

Starting and running a business is hard work. Having a great idea may not be enough.

To the right are links to groups that can help you with information, counseling and other start-up needs. This help is free.

You don’t have to go it alone. If you want or need assistance, click on the links to see what these groups have to offer. Or start with our Learning Center HERE.

Back to Guide Menu
A business plan can help you understand all the moving parts of your business before you get too far along. A business plan is also required by many lenders if you want to borrow money.

You can use a ‘business model canvas’ to think through things before writing your plan. Click on the YouTube videos and Canvanizer for help.

SCORE offers planning templates and assistance. Click on their icon to learn more.
TRAINING

Many groups offer training, workshops and webinars to help you become better prepared to start or run your business.

The links to the right are a few of the many resources available. Use the Business Resource Center of the Nevada Department of Business and Industry to identify others – or contact your local chamber of commerce, college or university, library, etc.

Remember – success depends on you!
NETWORKING

Building and maintaining relationships is critical to the long-term success of any business.

In Nevada, many groups are available to provide advice, assistance, mentoring or other forms of opportunity to expand your contacts and turn those contacts into productive relationships.

Click on an icon to learn more about these opportunities and how to make them work.
Business Relationships – More Than A Rolodex

Your Fellow Business People Might Be Able To:
- Share their business advice and experience.
- Provide leads to people, information or resources.
- Help with money or financing for your business.
- Refer customers to your business.
- Direct you to job opportunities for your business.
- Help you find business partners, coworkers or employees.
- Create more contacts for you through people they know.

Develop Good Relationships By:
- Networking! Get out to events and meet with people.
- Staying in touch. Follow up on what contacts are doing.
- Building trust. Never take advantage of someone.
- Showing a genuine interest in people. Learn what’s important to them. Listen to them. Ask questions.
- Being the first to act or do a favor. A giving attitude is rewarded with relationships more than a taking attitude. Give more than asked.
- Focusing on quality of relationships, not quantity. Be open to all, but invest in the relationships that are mutually beneficial.

Don’t Make These Mistakes:
- Being impersonal (all business, all the time).
- Not showing appreciation.
- Forgetting to update people who have helped you on how things are going.
- Being inconsistent in how you treat people.
- Acting unprofessionally when things don’t go as expected.
- Not admitting your mistakes.
- Not being careful in what you say or how you say it.
- Surrounding yourself with untrustworthy people.
- Keeping too many secrets. People trust transparency.

The business structure you choose will have legal and tax implications. Do your research, seek the advice of an accountant or attorney, and pick the structure that will work best for you and your business. When ready, register your business with the state using SilverFlume.

The links to the right provide more information and help on this important topic.
When selecting a name for your business, first use the “Nevada Business Search” feature on SilverFlume to search existing business names in Nevada. You want to ensure your preferred business name is not already being used in the state. If it is, you will need to choose another name.

If you don’t want to use your given name for your business (Jane Smith, for example), you will also have to file a Fictitious Name Form (also known as a “Doing Business As” or “DBA” form) with the State of Nevada and with every county in which you plan to do business.

For information on the state filing, go to SilverFlume.

For information on county filings, use the map on the Business Licensing Page in this Guide to connect with the filing contacts for each Nevada county.
Where you open shop can play a critical role in the success or failure of your business operation.

For tips on handling this aspect of your business, click on the links to the right.

Also, BEFORE locating your business anywhere in Nevada, you first need to verify the zoning requirements of the jurisdiction in which you want to put it.

Use the map on the Licensing Page of this Guide to connect with the jurisdiction(s) you are considering.
Some professions require additional licensing approvals from an independent board.

Some professions and businesses are regulated by state agencies.

Other businesses or occupations rely on local officials or civil action for enforcement.

To learn whether a profession or business activity might require additional licensures or regulatory compliance, use the buttons below to search for a profession.

BUSINESS LICENSING

You MUST license your business with the state. To do that, click the SilverFlume button below.

You MAY need to license your business with the city and/or county where the business is based and in every city and/or county where it will operate.

Click a county on the map to learn about local license requirements in that area.

Are you based outside Nevada? Then click HERE.
If you plan to locate or operate a business in Carson City, you must license it with the city. Click on the city logo for more information.

To register a Fictitious Firm Name in Carson City, obtain and file the relevant forms HERE.

To explore other business resources, contact the Carson City Chamber of Commerce or Northern Nevada Development Authority. Click on their logos to learn more.
Each city in Clark County – and Clark County itself – has different licensing requirements for businesses. These are in addition to the requirements of the State of Nevada.

Click on the Jurisdictional Finder Tool if you need to know what entity applies to your business location.

Click on the city and county logos to learn more about their respective requirements.

Fictitious Name Forms must be submitted to the Clark County Clerk. Click here to learn more.
A county business license is required in addition to your State of Nevada license. A separate city license is also required in the City of Fallon.

Click on the county or city logos to learn more.

For Fictitious Name Form filings, click [HERE].

For other help, click on the Fallon Chamber, Churchill Economic Development Authority or Northern Nevada Development Authority logos.
DOUGLAS COUNTY

A local or county business license is not required in addition to the state license. For Fictitious Firm Name filings, click HERE.

For food establishment health permits, contact the Carson City-Douglas County Public Health Regional Partnership. Click HERE.

For other business resources, contact the Northern Nevada Development Authority or Carson Valley Chamber of Commerce.
A county business license is not required.

The City of Elko and communities of Carlin, Wells and West Wendover do require their own business licenses.

Fictitious Name Certificates must be filed with the county clerk. Click HERE to learn more.

For other resources, click on the Northeastern Nevada Regional Development Authority logo.
A county business license is not required, nor are licenses required by any of the towns (Dyer/Fish Lake Valley, Goldfield, Silver Peak). To learn more about the county, click on the county logo.

For Fictitious Name Form information, click on the county logo and type “fictitious name” into the search function on the county webpage.

To explore resources in Goldfield, click on the link to the Goldfield Chamber of Commerce.
A county business license is not required, nor are licenses required by the communities of Eureka, Crescent Valley and Beowawe.

For Fictitious Name Form filings, click [HERE].
A county business license is required for anyone doing business in the county, unless the business is conducted only within the city limits of Winnemucca, in which case only a city license is needed. Click on the logos to learn more.

Fictitious Firm Name filings must be done through the county clerk. Click to learn more.
A county business license is required in addition to a State of Nevada business license.

Click on the county seal for more information on business licenses and Fictitious Name filings.

To explore other business resources, click on the Battle Mountain Chamber of Commerce or Lander County Economic Development Authority logos.

For economic development assistance, click on the Nevada Rural Development Corporation or Northeastern Nevada Regional Development Authority logos.
If your business is already licensed and based in another state, you must still license your out-of-state business with the State of Nevada if you want to operate in Nevada.

Use the SilverFlume link to get your state business license.

You may also need to license your business in every Nevada city and/or county where it will operate. The requirements for every city and county are listed in this guide.

Click on “Back to the Licensing Page” below and use the map to learn what city and/or county licenses are required in different parts of Nevada.
TAX STUFF

Not planning to operate your business under your own Social Security Number? You will need an Employer Identification Number issued by the U.S. Internal Revenue Service (IRS).

Click the IRS logo on the right to learn more.

You must also register your business with the Nevada Department of Taxation. To get started on that, first review the Department’s Taxpayer Information Packet. Click HERE.

For other tax help, click on the Nevada Taxation logo.
EMPLOYMENT RULES

Do you plan to hire employees? If so, you need to know about federal and state employment rules on wages, payment of overtime, workers compensation, health insurance, etc.

To learn about Nevada labor laws, click on the Nevada Office of the Labor Commissioner links. For information on workers compensation and occupational safety, click the links for the Nevada Division of Industrial Relations.

For federal rules and standards, click on the U.S. Department of Labor links. To understand the difference between an employee and an independent contractor, click on the IRS link. For Nevada workplace poster requirements, click on the Nevada Department of Business and Industry link.

Lastly, we provide a link to several articles with helpful hints about borrowing, loans, and managing cash flow.
HELPFUL HINTS ON $$

There are many challenges associated with financing a business.

The articles to the right provide helpful advice on what to look for, what to avoid, and what to do when you need money for your business.

Also, check out the Networking and Helpful Hands pages of this Guide to find advice and assistance in developing your Nevada business.
A business, product or service seldom sells itself. Think about what you are selling. Think about who will need it or want it. Why will they need it or want it? Why should they buy it from you?

Think about how and where you tell that story. How do you reach your customer?

Put together an outline of your thoughts. This is the start of your marketing plan.
THE BASICS OF A MARKETING PLAN

Your Plan Should Identify Six Things:

- Your Mission or Vision Statement
- Your Company Objective
- Your Market Environment – Research and Analysis
- Your Target Customers – Research and Analysis
- Your Competition and How They Match Up to You – Research and Analysis
- Your Action Plan

The “Action Plan” is About Media Mix:

- What media tools are best for reaching your target customers
- Advertising, public relations, sales strategies – all of these tools (and more) need to be considered, studied and figured out.
- Research and analysis are critical to putting the pieces together in a way that will work for your business objective, market environment and target customers.
- Your own insight into customers, environment, and competition is important too. Ask intelligent questions, be open to facts that may be different than you expected, and adjust accordingly.

Marketing Tips:

- Have a clear intention – know what you want to be, do, or have.
- Take consistent action – do the things necessary to achieve the desired outcome.
- Transform your passion into a market position.
- Market position evolves from your understanding the defining characteristics of your product or service. The primary elements of positioning are Pricing, Quality, Customer Service, Distribution and Packaging.
- You must define your product or service – or a competitor will do it for you.
- Identify your greatest strength and use it to position your product or service.
